ATTORNEY-GENERAL DENIES ABDUCTION BACKED

Dominion Parliament Will Assemble Dec. 10, If Possible

House Meets On Old Date; Four Resign

Defeated Cabinet Ministers Give Up Posts—Hon. G. P. Graham Stays for Time Being

Dr. King Assumes Labor Portfolio

Session Will Be Postponed If Members-Elect Are Unable to Take Seats on Date Chosen

OTTAWA, Nov. 6.—Premier Mackenzie King announced tonight that Parliament would meet on December 10, provided legal requirements can be met. All the defeated members of the Cabinet holding portfolios, with the exception of Hon. George P. Graham, Minister of Railways and Canals, have handed their resignations to the Prime Minister. The four resignations have been accepted.

Portfolios held by the Ministers who have resigned will not be filled until Parliament meets and the attitude of the members is made known. Instead the portfolios will be assigned to Ministers who were elected or, holding seats in the Senate, did not seek election.

Ministers Get New Departments

The Postmaster-General, Hon. Charles Murphy, will be acting Secretary of State; Hon. James A. Robb, Minister of Finance, will be acting Minister of Trade and Commerce; Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, will be acting Minister of Immigration and Colonization; Hon. J. H. King, Minister of Public Works, will be acting Minister of Labor. For the time being, at least, Hon. G. P. Graham will continue to administer the portfolio of Railways and Canals.

Mr. King made no statement as to his own intentions, but promised an announcement tomorrow.

The Statement

The official statement this evening follows: "My proclamation published in The Canada Gazette, September 12, 1925, Parliament was summoned to meet the tenth day of December, 1925. At a meeting of the Cabinet held this afternoon it was decided to have Parliament meet on that date unless in the interval it should appear that under the law it will not be possible to have all constituencies represented.

"The chief electoral officer has advised the Government that until the end of this month it will be impossible to say definitely whether in some electoral districts delays require using the Dominion Elections Act for recounts or otherwise might prevent the official return of members-elect in time to attend the opening of Parliament. If it were to meet on December 10.

Delay Possible

"On November 30, therefore, the Government proposes to advise His Excellency either to call Parliament for the dispatch of business on the date already fixed, or on such later date as, having regard to the circumstances as they then appear, it will be possible for all the members-elect to have been officially returned and all constituencies duly represented.

"All the Ministers holding portfolios who were defeated in the general election on October 25, have tendered their resignations to the Prime Minister, to take effect immediately or at such time as may best serve the public interest. "This Is Bum Pie," Scrambled C.P.R. Robbers

NEILSON, B.C., Nov. 6.—Robbers who broke into the Canadian Pacific station early this morning, raided the lunch counter, ate half a pie, and left a note in the other half saying: "This is bum pie." John Walker, who says he is a pipe fitter, of Vancouver, was arrested by police and charged with breaking into the station. Police are searching for a second man. Nothing of great value was taken.

Resignations Settle Cabinet Conjecture

Ministers Will Not Have to Look for Seats—Mr. King Likely to Try in Ontario

OTTAWA, Nov. 6.—Premier King's announcement tonight dispelled conjecture as to where the defeated members of the Government holding portfolios are to find seats. With the exception of the Prime Minister himself and Hon. George P. Graham, Minister of Railways and Canals, the ministers have tendered their resignations.

Mr. King's statement gave no intimation in regard to what he proposed to do himself. It seems probable that the Prime Minister will endeavor to secure a seat in Ontario.

The Ministers who have been appointed to administer these departments which are temporarily without a head, are most of them thoroughly familiar with requirements of their new posts. Hon. Charles Murphy, Secretary of State under Sir Wilfrid Laurier from 1904 to 1911, when the Laurier Government resigned.

Hon. Jas. A. Robb was appointed Minister of Trade and Commerce when the present Government came into power and administered that portfolio for two years. Hon. Charles Stewart was Acting Minister of Immigration and Colonization from 1921 to 1923.

Mining Operators Meet in Victoria

Revision of Basis of Taxation on Mines Suggested to Government—Dinner in Evening

A gathering jointly representing the Mining Association of British Columbia and the Mining Association of the Interior, was held here yesterday for the purpose of presenting taxation questions to the Provincial Government. These two organizations have been co-operating for a considerable period, and their particular endeavor has been to reach a basis which they recommend to the Government as a fair method of taxation of mining enterprises.

In preference to a tax of ten per cent on the operating income, with depletion allowance, it is suggested that the practice of Quebec and Ontario should be adopted, under which the basis of taxation is three per cent on the value of the minerals produced, as they then appear. It will be possible for all the members-elect to have been officially returned and all constituencies duly represented.

Paris Keeps Mum On Finance Scheme

Premier Painleve Changes Mind About Announcing Details of Treasury Plan

PARIS, Nov. 6.—M. Painleve, French Premier and Minister of Finance, did not hand his financial plan for restoring the position of the French treasury, to M. Herriot, president of the Chamber of Deputies, and make known its contents to the newspapers tonight as he had intended. Instead, he decided to make a further study of it.

An official of the Ministry of Finance said tonight that there would be no fundamental changes in the plan as already outlined. Preliminary information is that the plan calls for a sinking fund to be derived through a forty per cent increase in the taxes on all securities and a small increase in the tax on income.

M. Painleve is declared to be hopeful of raising between fifty and sixty-five billion francs in fifteen years by this means.

Assassination of Mussolini Claimed Mere Detail of Conspiracy—Overthrow of Monarchy Plotted

ROME, Nov. 6.—Already aroused by the third plans to assassinate their Premier, the people of Rome were further alarmed today when it became known through a detailed report published by the usually well-informed Epoca that the assassination was only a detail of a general conspiracy calling not only for the death of Mussolini and the overthrow of the Fascist Government, but the fall of the House of Savoy and the setting up of an Italian republic.

The source of the Epoca's statement is not made public, but there is not even a hint that it came from governmental sources. According to the paper, Roberto Farinacci, secretary of the Fascist Party, was the first to learn of the existence of the plot. He gave all the information he had to the Minister of the Interior, Louigi Federzoni, who assumed personal direction of the plans to detect its origin and follow its developments.

Suspects Shadowed From the moment the minister became aware of the plot some time ago, he ordered that all those suspected of being implicated be shadowed by detectives. On Saturday, says the report, the former Unitarian Socialist deputy, Zaniboni, who, the police assert, was to have fired at the Premier, left Mantua in the company of three men. The automobile, driven by Zaniboni himself, proceeded in the direction of Rome, followed by another car occupied by detectives.

Zaniboni and his friends, who are named but who are said to have been identified by the police, stopped a few miles from Rome. They disappeared in a thick pine grove where Zaniboni practiced for a long time shooting at a target with a specially equipped rifle.

Shoots Well

The practice succeeded as well, the report goes on, that the others congratulated Zaniboni. He then drove the car into Rome and took lodgings in an obscure rooming-house near St. Peter's. He remained there for a few days, using various aliases.

Old Woman Accused Of Plotting Murder

Taxi Drivers Reveal Alleged Plot Against Life of Sister-in-Law

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Nov. 6.—Mrs. Nellie B. Fortune, sixty, said to be well-to-do, was arrested here today charged with having plotted with two taxi drivers for the murder of her sister-in-law, Gertrude Fortune, seven-year-old, who is alleged to have told the two chauffeurs to shoot her.

The arrest was based on information given to police by taxi drivers who said he took a $25 initial payment from Mrs. Fortune, and was to have received $500 when he had decamped Mrs. Fortune and left her somewhere in the hills to die of exposure.

Magistrate Scores Parental Neglect

Youth Permitted to Go Astray in Dens of Vice, Charges Winnipeg Official

WINNIPEG, Nov. 6.—A scathing indictment against parents who neglect their children was delivered in the police court here today by Magistrate Sir Hugh John Macdonald.

"In past holes in Winnipeg and St. Boniface, many a child has been rescued from the hands of their parents, who have allowed them to roam the streets at will, and have neglected their parental duties," he charged. "Mothers and fathers who neglect their children, they are neglecting the eternal tribunal for the neglect they show their growing children."

God is being banished from the home, and the proper sense of the country, the growing youth of the country, Dens of vice are allowed to flourish, fed with easy money, while virtue and rectitude are laughed to scorn."

The magistrate's utterance was prompted in dealing with a case involving a serious offence against juveniles.

Winnipeg Trio Remanded for Sentence—Other Charges to Be Heard Also

WINNIPEG, Nov. 6.—John Stanton, Alex. Shupenluk and George Laboduk, were this afternoon found guilty on charges of escaping from legal custody, and assault. They were remanded for sentence.

Stanton and Shupenluk are also listed on the present assault docket to appear for trial on charges of murder. Laboduk is awaiting trial for alleged theft.

"Doc" Blake, known as the "King of Fairs," and a Mackenzie, who escaped with the trio, have not yet been apprehended.

Cable Steamer Loses Bridge and Forward Boats—Forced to Run Before Gale

HALIFAX, N.S., Nov. 6.—A violent North Atlantic tempest was reported by wireless today by the cable repair steamer Lord Kelvin in midatlantic. The radio message stated that a furious gale was raging.

The Kelvin's bridge, engine-room, telegraph and forward boats had been damaged, but it was declared that the vessel was seaworthy and all on board well. The steamer then was running before the gale.

The French line steamer Roussillon, from Bordeaux, arrived this morning, reporting very rough weather in midatlantic. The vessel was damaged, but it was declared that the vessel was seaworthy and all on board well. The steamer then was running before the gale.

26 Starving Men Found by Steamer On Pacific Island

The men have been marooned on the island for a year, the owners having gone into bankruptcy.

The Aorangi landed emergency supplies on the island for the marooned men.

Mr. Manson Swears Consent Never Given To Wong Kidnapping

Head of Provincial Law Forces Takes Stand at Robinson Trial—Interviewed by Accused, Put His Foot Down and Said Abduction Was Impossible—Suggestion Kidnappers' Action Countenanced, Untrue

VANCOUVER, Nov. 6.—Emphatic denials of Attorney-General A. M. Manson and M. B. Jackson, K.C., who had been appointed by the Crown to investigate Janet Smith's death, that they in any way countenanced and sanctioned the abduction of Wong Foon Sing, featured the trial of Oscar B. V. Robinson and William Robinson, charged with the kidnapping, today in assize court.

All evidence has now been heard. Court adjourned at 10 p.m. until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, when counsel will address and the judge will charge the jury.

Prisoner Advised to Go to Police With His Information, Says Witness

Mr. Manson on Stand

Mr. Manson was on the witness stand from 6:15 to 7:20 o'clock. He narrated at considerable length and with much detail the evidence connected with the Janet Smith investigation and the Wong Foon Sing abduction.

He explained that he took over the investigation into Janet Smith's death after the first inquest and on representations that all had not been disclosed which was disclosed. Following the murder verdict, returned at the second inquest, his department, he said, pursued the matter with the utmost diligence.

He was asked, but he was not getting restless. He, therefore, appointed M. B. Jackson, K.C., who had shown investigating ability in a Vancouver case, to take over the Smith case. He had hoped that Mr. Jackson would be able to work the case quietly and secretly.

Denies Consent Given to Abduction

"That statement is wholly untrue," Mr. Manson said when asked by Crown Prosecutor C. W. Craig, K.C., whether he in conversation with the elder Robinson unofficially consented to the abduction.

Witness explained that Robinson saw him on September 28 in the Attorney-General's office. Robinson was asked to do the job. J. H. McMullin, superintendent of Provincial police, Robinson, said Mr. Manson, presented a letter of introduction to Premier Oliver from Joseph Oliver, the Premier's lawyer son. Robinson, said witness, discussed secret service work in connection with liquor law enforcement. The only other man mentioned with Robinson, said the Attorney-General, was in Vancouver on a subsequent date, when he saw Robinson in the minister's room at the court-house. On that occasion Robinson mentioned the Janet Smith case and a proposal to abduct Wong Foon Sing.

Would Not Stand for It

"I interrupted," said Mr. Manson, "and said to him, 'Man, do you understand you are in Canada? You can't do those kind of things here.'"

Mr. Manson said that he pointed out that evidence obtained under these circumstances would be of no use.

"I put my foot down firmly and effectively," said Mr. Manson. "That ended it."

Robinson discussed other methods, said witness, and he told him that if he had anything of value he should take it to the superintendent of Provincial police.

Following the receipt of a letter, dated December 1, from Robinson, offering his services in connection with the Janet Smith investigation, Mr. Manson testified that he telephoned Mr. Jackson, who was then in Vancouver, and instructed Mr. Jackson to see Robinson.

Mr. Jackson subsequently reported the result of his investigation. He stated that there was no direct evidence involving anybody in the homicide.

Decide to Charge Wong

After conferring with Deputy Attorney-General W. D. Carter and Mr. Jackson, he decided, and others agreed, that Wong Foon Sing should be put on trial for murder, said witness. He concluded that would be in the public interest.

Germany Given Broad Hint Evacuation Now Depends on Teuton Attitude

PARIS, Nov. 6.—The evacuation of Cologne may be an accomplished fact by December 31. A broad hint to that effect is conveyed to the German Government in a note drawn up by the Allied Council of Ambassadors today. The only condition is that the German Government clear up certain points in their latest communication on the progress of disarmament in Germany, which the Ambassadors found somewhat vague.

Germany, it was stated at the meeting, has been showing her good faith lately in the fulfillment of the military clauses of the Versailles Treaty. The note which will be handed to Herr von Hoesch, the German Ambassador at Paris, is entirely friendly and imbued with the spirit of Locarno.

Bitter Strife Springing Up in Syria—Native Sympathizers Throw in Lot With Druses

Damascus Reported To Be Surrounded

City Cut Off From Outside World—Railway and Telegraph Communication Cut—Deraya Taken

PARIS, Nov. 6.—Although the war office dismissed the Syrian situation in a communique tonight with the brief announcement that a large French fortified camp, Mousafir, in the Djebel Druse territory, has been evacuated "because of the regrouping of French forces," there is other information, some of it from reliable sources and others described as "unofficial," showing that a most serious state of affairs is developing.

The Arabs, represented as conducting a holy war, are reported to have thrown in their lot with the Djebel Druse tribesmen, the combined forces showing determination to wage bitter warfare against France as the mandatory country.

Damascus Surrounded

From official advice the tribemen appear to be in control of a great part of the territory north of Damascus. It is being stated that all of the Home District, about eighty miles to the north of Damascus, is in their hands.

Damascus, according to one authoritative account, is closely surrounded and the target of the fire of the Druses. The city is without railway and telegraph communication with the outside world.

Deraya Seized by Rebels

LONDON, Nov. 6.—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Cairo reports that the rebellious Druse tribesmen have seized Deraya, about seven miles south of Damascus. The Haila-Damascus Railway, on which the city is situated, is said to have been cut. The dispatch adds that there is a severe censorship on all news leaving the region.

In a dispatch which emphasizes the seriousness of the situation around Damascus, the Cairo correspondent of The Daily Mail writes: "The Druse leader, Ramadan Pasha Ibn Shalash, has proclaimed himself military governor under a provisional government. Now Bey Rifaat has been proclaimed civil governor."

PARIS, Nov. 6.—It is understood the French Government has decided as to the fate of the city. The chief editor of Le Matin, as High Commissioner of Syria.

Poppy Day Will Be Observed in Victoria Today

Public Asked to Patronize Annual Event Liberally—Memorial Service Tomorrow at Royal Victoria

Arrangements Completed

Poppy Day will be held today, when a hundred or more ladies will assist in selling the poppies emblem on the streets of the city. In the past the citizens of Victoria and district have entered wholeheartedly into the idea of Poppy Day and have given freely. This year poppies have been distributed to more than thirty schools and nearly double the number of men and women have purchased poppies for window decoration as compared with former years. Fully one hundred stores in Victoria will have been supplied with large quantities of poppies at noon and orders are still coming in to the poppy store at 1227 Government Street.

All the arrangements have been made by the Armistice Period Committee representing the recognized ex-service associations in the city. The joint conveners for Poppy Day are Mrs. H. Crocker and Mrs. H. P. Thorpe. Ladies willing to offer their services for today might kindly communicate with the conveners at the poppy store, or telephone 2478.

The Armistice memorial service will be held in the Royal Victoria Theatre, tomorrow afternoon, at 3 o'clock. This service has again been arranged by the Armistice Period Committee. In view of the rather cold weather experienced in former years, the use of the largest theatre in the city has been obtained for the comfort of those who attend.

General instructions were issued by Mr. Manson to search for and analyze evidence and advise if there were other clues which should be followed. He stated he learned of Wong's abduction while playing golf with Hon. Dr. Rutherford on the Uplands links. It was a Saturday. His informant was Mr. Jackson, who expressed the opinion that Wong had left on the Empress of Russia.

Mr. Jackson asked the Attorney-General to authorize him to purchase an airplane, which would pursue the Oriental liner. Mr. Manson approved and directed that Constable Cruikshank or Constable Hannan, of the Provincial police, who knew Wong, should accompany the pilot, for the purpose of identifying him.

Mr. Jackson's evidence in rebuttal of Robinson's evidence that he had seen Robinson, not "twenty plus fourteen times," but two or three times before the abduction of Wong, and three times since the abduction, only in Vancouver, twice in December, and never in January, but once in February.

There was one time in Victoria, when he again told Robinson there could be nothing doing about an abduction. Robinson had been indebted to him for services rendered in the Fall of 1924. In Victoria, Robinson had referred to Constable McDonald in a request that his services be used.

"Neither myself nor any other person in the department of the Attorney-General knew of nor expected any abduction," witness declared.

"What was done only embarrassed us and frustrated our expectations of results from prosecutions of Wong who had been preceded upon weeks before."

No Immunity Promised
Mr. Jackson said the department of the Attorney-General had not seen Robinson for many weeks before the abduction. The last communication was by way of a letter saying Robinson would not be employed in any way.

There was never, said the witness, any assurance at any time of immunity. Not even at the home of Robinson, when Mrs. Robinson may have listened in, was such a subject broached or answered. Witness knew Mrs. Robinson was in the house when he called, as she was in the room to describe the photograph of Wong.

Mrs. Robinson had spoken of a picture which Jackson was supposed to have taken from his pocket for purposes of comparison. Jackson, referring to the exhibit, pointed out that it was too big to have ever been in a pocket of his clothes.

Describes It Differently
Jackson declared J. H. Renkler, K.C., was mistaken in saying he had seen Jackson three times. Jackson had seen Mr. Renkler two times, once at the Chinese consulate office, and later at the Vancouver Club.

At the time Renkler had undertaken to draft a letter to Wong asking him to tell a full story, and assuring him full protection. Jackson saw Renkler again on Tuesday, April 21, to carry out the plan of sending the letter. Mr. Renkler declined then, saying he did not believe a story that had been printed in The Tribune.

Colonel McMillen, Superintendent of Provincial Police, told the court there had never been anything said in his conversations of the abduction of Wong. He had no knowledge that the Attorney-General had a knowledge of the abduction.

Robinson's Boy Testifies

William Robinson, seventeen-year-old son of Oscar Robinson, testified that he knew of his own knowledge who the employers of his father were when the Chinese boy was kidnapped. He said his job in connection with the securing evidence in the Janet Smith case was to participate in the abduction of Wong. He declared that Commissioner H. G. McDonald, of the Point Grey Police, Chief of Police John Murdoch and Sergeant Perry Kirkham visited his father at his home, and that they had also visited the house in Point Grey in which Wong was held captive.

Oscar Robinson followed his son on the witness stand for the defence. He said he had made a trip to Victoria in September, 1924, in connection with securing evidence in the Janet Smith death. While there he saw Rupt. McMillen in the British Columbia police office and with him had gone to the office of the Attorney-General. There had been discussed narcotic and liquor violations, and also the Janet Smith killing. When they were talking over the first abduction of Wong, Robinson testified, Mr. Manson had asked him what he thought of it.

"He asked me if I thought I could clear the matter up if Wong were held for a longer time than on the first abduction. I answered 'Yes'."

"Manson said: 'Why don't you go ahead and do it then?'"

Jackson-Senker Conversation
J. H. Renkler, K.C., counsel for the defence, was charged with murder, was called to the stand to testify on behalf of the accused.

On the afternoon of April 18 he met Mr. Jackson at the office of the Chinese consul in the latter building up a draft of a letter he proposed to send to the Chinese.

The letter was produced in court. He read the letter to the jury, which intended to tell the Chinese boy that the police had no doubt that Janet Smith had been murdered and, while he was intending to send him or threaten him, the letter said that if he would confess his knowledge of the death and give only the truth, he would have nothing to fear from the police.

It was not decided at that time, the witness said, whether or not the letter would be sent. Later Mr. Renkler, having discussed it with his law partner, told Jackson that he did not think that it should go.

Photograph Comes
A few days later Jackson came to his office, he said, and asked him if he was willing to see the Chinaman. While the witness was quite anxious to do so, Jackson returned a few days later and said it could not be arranged. He spoke of a photograph of Wong and the same afternoon one arrived in the mail.

But the witness never had any definite knowledge as to where it came from.

Under cross-examination by Mr. Craig, he told the court that Jackson never seemed to know who abducted Wong Foon Ring. On repeated occasions when questioned, Jackson had given the witness his word as a gentleman that he knew nothing about it.

He had discussed it with the Attorney-General after afternoon when Mr. Manson and General Victor Odium had come to his office apparently for that purpose. Mr. Manson had told him on that occasion that a visit he had received from H. O. McDonald, Police Commissioner in Point Grey. The Attorney-General related to the witness how this man had something to tell him about the abduction, and he had stopped him.

"I don't want to know anything about it," the Attorney-General, the witness said, stated that afternoon. On further questioning from Mr. Craig, Mr. Renkler admitted that he had told Mr. Manson at that time that he considered his action rather peculiar in the light of his office. The Attorney-General, sitting in the courtroom, shook his head.

Cowper on Stand
J. H. Cowper, editor of The Tribune, was a witness and admitted that he had seen Wong when held captive in the Twenty-Fifth Avenue house, and he said that he had discussed the case with Mr. Jackson, and that the latter knew who was holding the Chinaman.

He gave the court details of a long distance conversation between Robinson and Mr. Jackson. Cowper was in Robinson's office when the call was put in, and after the usual delay the call came back and Mrs. Elizabeth Donnelly, one of Robinson's operatives, answered.

He gave Robinson's conversation over the telephone to Jackson as follows:

"This is Vancouver—you know who it is—I am getting tired of holding this fellow without any money—I think you had better come over and bring some money."

The witness went on to tell of meeting Jackson on Friday, April 17, a few days after the long-distance telephone call.

The lawyer suggested to Cowper that they both knew who the man was that had kidnapped the Chinese houseboy.

"This chap won't release Wong," Jackson was said to have told the witness, "but I think I have evidence to put Wong on trial if I can get him away from this man. What I want you to do is to use your influence to have a letter delivered to Wong, promising him immunity from the authorities if he tells his story."

"Neither of us admitted who this man was, but both seemed to know his identity," Cowper testified.

Saw Letter From Mr. Manson

Under cross-examination by C. W. Craig, Crown counsel, Cowper admitted on April 17, and even a week before, that he knew who the man was who had kidnapped Wong Foon Ring. His first incredulity of the story told him by Robinson had been eliminated, he explained, after he had seen a letter from the Attorney-General to Mr. Jackson in Robinson's office.

"You did actually see then a letter from Manson to Jackson, bearing the signature of the Attorney-General?" Mr. Craig asked.

"Yes," declared Mr. Cowper. "Will you swear Manson signed it?" the Crown prosecutor again asked the witness.

"Yes," said Cowper.

Visited Wong

Cowper went on to tell, under the cross-examination of the Crown, of his visit to the house on Twenty-Fifth Avenue where Wong was confined. He put on one of the disguises used by the abductors and interrogated the Chinese boy on his knowledge of the death of Janet Smith. He also took a photograph of Wong.

"Did you profess to be a medical man?" the Crown asked.

"No," the witness answered, rather slowly. "What is the reason for the healthiness?" Mr. Craig inquired.

"Well," answered Cowper, "there is an explanation to go with my answer. I wanted to ascertain the physical condition of Wong Foon Ring."

"Oh, I see," returned the Crown counsel. "You did not want to have a murder on your hands?"

"You wanted to see how long he would last?" Mr. Justice McDonald said.

Cowper continued with his answer without any reference to the remarks of the crown or the bench.

Test for Lying
"I held his pulse and I asked him questions," the witness explained, "and every time I led him away from the beaten track of the story his pulse would jump. That is one of the methods used in ascertaining whether a man is lying."

"We haven't had that opportunity here," commented his lordship amid peals of laughter in the courtroom. "I must apologize," he said, the judge smiling after the laughter had quieted down, "but I could not pass up this opportunity."

Cowper admitted to the court that he had given financial assistance during the imprisonment of Wong Foon Ring. Crown counsel reminded him he would be tried himself on the same charge on which he was testifying at the time.

"Are you going to plead guilty or not guilty?" the crown asked.

"Not guilty," Cowper answered. After recurring questioning admissions from Cowper on his knowledge and implication in the abduction, Mr. Craig suggested that he thought he had better plead guilty.

That he had heard Mr. Jackson assure her husband of immunity was the testimony of Mrs. Robinson, wife of the accused. She stated that Mr. Jackson had visited her home to see her husband. She heard Mr. Jackson say:

"The Attorney-General knows everything, but on account of his position his hand must not be shown. You have nothing to fear. The Provincial Police will not bother you."

At the opening of the morning session Inspector Forbes Cruikshank, of the Provincial Police, was called.

Court—"Did you ever, after August 24, speak to Robinson about an abduction?"

Answer—"No, only once when I said to him that the police would have nothing to do with it. I had no knowledge myself of who abducted the boy, nor did the police officers under me, so far as I know."

Farmers Would Delay Action Over Survey

Gathering Asks That Government Make No Move on Educational Report This Session

The Provincial Farmers' Institute, which met in the Parliament Buildings yesterday, will recommend to its Advisory Board that the Agricultural Committee of the Legislature be asked that no actual legislation based upon the report of the Educational Survey be considered at the present session of the Legislature. This action was taken following a discussion of the report, which occupied all yesterday forenoon. It was felt that there had not been sufficient time allowed for the issuing of the report to allow of the consideration of it with sufficient care to pass an opinion upon the subjects dealt with.

The chairman, Mr. H. H. Grist, expressed his satisfaction with the manner in which members of the Institute had discussed this question of education. He congratulated the body upon the eagerness with which the subject had been approached.

Later consideration of the committee that had been entrusted with the consideration of the report and which in turn expressed its inability to deal with it in a proper manner in the time, will be asked to appear before the Advisory Board later, when the subject is up for consideration and may also be asked to appear before the Agricultural Committee.

The secretary of the Board was instructed to ascertain if the recommendation in the report of last year, which proposed that all bills dealing with agricultural matters should be referred to the Agricultural Committee upon presentation to the Legislature, was to be acted upon.

Acting on the report of the Special Committee on the Sheep Protection Act the matter was fully discussed and with some slight amendments passed unanimously.

It was also resolved that it be recommended the Act be made a Province-wide one, including all municipalities.

Minister Sympathetic

Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, who was present at the meeting, stated that the Government was anxious to carry into effect legislation for the protection of sheep and for the encouragement of the keeping of flocks in the Province. It appeared that this line of industry was one that could be made very profitable in British Columbia, and he felt that this resolution should go to the Agricultural Committee of the House. He himself was ready at all times to afford any additional machinery looking for the protection of the flocks of the Province.

Mr. G. H. Hadwin, who was acting as chairman at the time, called attention to the fact that Cowichan had collected $400 in sheep taxes and had been making a practice of paying for losses by dogs. Recently, however, the municipality had been advised that its action was illegal.

There was a strong complaint made that present sheep protection Act was not being enforced as stringently as it should be.

Provincial Markets

A resolution dealing with the marketing and grading of produce was referred to the Advisory Board with a recommendation that similar legislation be laid upon the necessity for pushing the marketing of Provincial products. Following complaints from East Sooke as to carelessness of the part of hunters, it was recommended from that Institute that the Game Board be asked to have notices put up at conspicuous places intended to lower this danger. The matter was allowed to stand over for the present.

The Advisory Board will be asked to take up the question of the application and distribution of the annual grant of the Institute.

The following were present at the convention during the day: Mr. H. H. Grist, chairman; Mr. C. E. Whitney-Griffiths, Mechnosin, secretary; Mr. J. Y. Copeman and Mr. E. W. Neel, Cowichan; Lady Emily Walker and Mr. J. Thorneit, East Sooke and Rocky Point; H. G. Pierce, Mechnosin; Messrs. Fleet, Van der Byl, Swatman, G. H. Hadwin, P. Snell, D. Brotherson, J. G. Sealey, Mrs. McVickers, Captain Barkley and Major Stern. There also attended, part of the day: Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture; Dr. Inglis, Livestock Commissioner, and Grazing Commissioner McKenzie.

British Auto Trade Asks Higher Duties

Motor Industry Suffers From Foreign "Dumping," Manufacturers Claim

LONDON, Nov. 6.—The Association of British Motor Manufacturers has applied to the Board of Trade to impose an import duty of 25 per cent on foreign commercial vehicles under the Safeguarding of Industries Act. The association takes the ground that the motor industry in England is suffering from the "dumping" of cheap commercial cars from the United States, France and Italy. They contend that the imposition of the duties requested will lead to a doubling of the number of workers employed in the industry here and also will be a valuable source of revenue.

Legislative Council of New South Wales Votes Exclusion of Women

SYDNEY, Australia, Nov. 6.—The Legislative Council of New South Wales by a vote of twenty-eight to twenty-five, yesterday rejected a second reading of the (government bill to enable women to sit as members of the council. Some of the members advanced the view that inasmuch as the state Labor caucus had instructed the ministry (which is a Labor ministry) to request the Governor to appoint thirty-five new members of the council, so that the Legislative Council might vote itself out of existence, it would be farcical to support a bill to enable women to sit there.

Tutankhamen's Body Is Found Declares Cario

Egyptian Minister of Works Issues Communique Announcing Belief in Final Identification of Remains

Shows Unexampled Beauty

CAIRO, Egypt, Nov. 6.—The body of King Tutankhamen is believed definitely to have been discovered, a communique issued in Arabic by the Ministry of Works, announces.

Tutankhamen's tomb was reopened October 12 in the presence of Egyptian officials. The lid of the first sarcophagus was lifted, revealing another, on which lay linen coverings and bouquets. These were removed and revealed a work of unexampled beauty. This second sarcophagus bore an effigy of the God Osiris, decorated from head to foot and embellished with multi-colored pieces of glass.

The sarcophagus itself was covered with a thin layer of gold on a marble ground and adorned with the wings of the serpent goddess Buto and the vulture goddess Nectchet. After this sarcophagus had been scientifically examined, it was removed first—an extremely delicate operation, as the one fitted exactly inside the other, and delicate ornamentation might easily be injured by the slightest touch.

Human Shaped Coffin

By October 22, however, it was possible to remove the cover from the second sarcophagus, disclosing a human shaped coffin, covered with a linen shroud which adhered to it. Around the head and chest was a string of beads and flowers. The face was uncovered (or not covered according to the various translations) and it believed to represent young King Tut, himself. (This is thought to imply that the shroud around the coffin did not cover the painted face customarily depicted upon such encasements.)

After photographs were taken, the shroud, beads, flowers, were removed, revealing the superb coffin of mummy-like design, covered with gold ornaments. Unfortunately a large part of the coffin was marred by a shining deposit, apparently some glutinous liquid which must have been spilled over it at the time of burial.

The most important question now before the workers is how to remove the human-shaped coffin from the second sarcophagus which, in addition to fitting very closely, had adhered on account of this glutinous liquid.

Fines Are Inflicted For Passing Cars

Rule Requiring Automobiles to Stop While Trams Standing Must Be Obeyed

Two cases of violation of the rule which forbids automobiles from passing a waiting street car came before Magistrate Jay yesterday morning. In each case the court found that the accused were guilty and inflicted a fine of $15 each.

Mr. Thomas Mayo, who was detained by Mr. J. B. Clearhue, argued that the auto had passed the street car before the corner was reached where passengers were to be taken on. In this case Mr. Adam Hutchison had been knocked down by the auto, but was not hurt. It was contended by Mr. Mayo that Mr. Hutchison was coming diagonally across the street and was in advance of the street car when he was hit.

The magistrate pointed out that not only were autos required to remain in rear of a standing street car, but it was also required that they were to stop in the case of a street car about to stop.

In the other case Louis Hong, driving a truck, had passed a car near the postoffice. Mr. Fred Landsberg told of the efforts that had to be made by

Canadian Pacific Railway Completed Great Undertaking in Presence of Lord Strathcona and Others

Two Survivors Live Here

Forty years ago today there was accomplished an act which occupies an important place in the history of the Province and of Canada. On November 7, 1885, at Craigellachie, on the line between Skeena and Revelstoke, the late Lord Strathcona drove the last spike that completed the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway in British Columbia and made complete the ribbon of steel across the continent.

There are not many men living today who participated in that historic ceremony, but in Mr. F. Fraser and Mr. Patrick Sullivan Victoria can lay claim to two of them. Mr. H. J. Camble, of Vancouver, veteran retired Canadian Pacific Railway engineer, is a third, and it is believed they are the only ones left in British Columbia.

The story, as developed from the records of Sir Sandford Fleming, is told in an attractive recital in Begg's History of British Columbia. To commemorate the occasion, the president of the Canadian Pacific Railway has just sent out to heads of the departments and old employees copies of Dr. Macleth's new work on the building of the railway.

The Directorate Party

A party was formed in Montreal to perform the crowning event of the great transcontinental railway, namely to connect the eastern with the western sections of track and thus form one continuous line from ocean to ocean. Four directors of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company were of the party, viz.: Lord Strathcona, Sir Sandford Fleming, Sir W. C. Van Horne and C. R. Harris. They left Montreal, October 27, with the regular Winnipeg evening train, in the special private car, the "Saskatchewan." The destination was Port Moody, as the city of the future had then no existence. The train, after a delay of two days at Winnipeg, left that city, November 2, 1885. The train beyond Craigellachie became "special." It reached the western crossing of the Columbia in fifty-six hours after leaving Winnipeg. The gap, however, was not closed, the work having been delayed by inclement rains, so the train could not proceed farther; the party, therefore, was obliged to wait for a short time. Early on the morning of the seventh, says Sir Sandford Fleming in describing the circumstances, the junction was verging to completion, and at nine o'clock the last rail was laid in its place. All that remained to finish the work was to drive home one spike. By common consent, the duty of performing this task was assigned to one of the four directors present—the senior in years and influence, whose high character placed him in the position of Donald Alexander Smith (afterwards Lord Strathcona). No one could on such an occasion more worthily represent the company, or more appropriately give the finishing blow, which, in a material sense, were to complete the gigantic undertaking. Lord Strathcona braced himself to the task, and he wielded the by no means light spike hammer with as good a will as the professional tracklayer. The work was carried on in silence. Nothing was heard but the reverberations of the blows struck by him. It was no ordinary occasion; the scene was in every respect noteworthy, from the groups which the rugged solitude of the mountains had brought together so many human beings in this spot in the heart of the mountains. Most of the engineers, with hundreds of workmen of all nationalities who had been engaged in the mountains, were present.

Came Here Later

Everyone appeared to be deeply impressed by what was taking place. The central figure in the group was something more than the representative of the railway company which had achieved the triumph he was consummating. All present were more or less affected by a formality which labor, intermingled with hundreds of men, and of off renewed energy to overcome what at times appeared insurmountable obstacles.

Eczema Was So Bad Could Hardly Sleep

Mrs. G. Jones, Kitchener, Alta., writes: "I had eczema on my left hand, and my first finger was so swollen, sore and itchy I could hardly sleep at night."

I got a prescription from my doctor, but it did me no good, so I finally began to take

Burdock BLOOD BITTERS.

After I had taken three bottles I was completely relieved of my eczema, and would advise any one suffering from any disease of the blood to use B.B.B., as it's worth its price many times over.

Return of All Land Is Asked

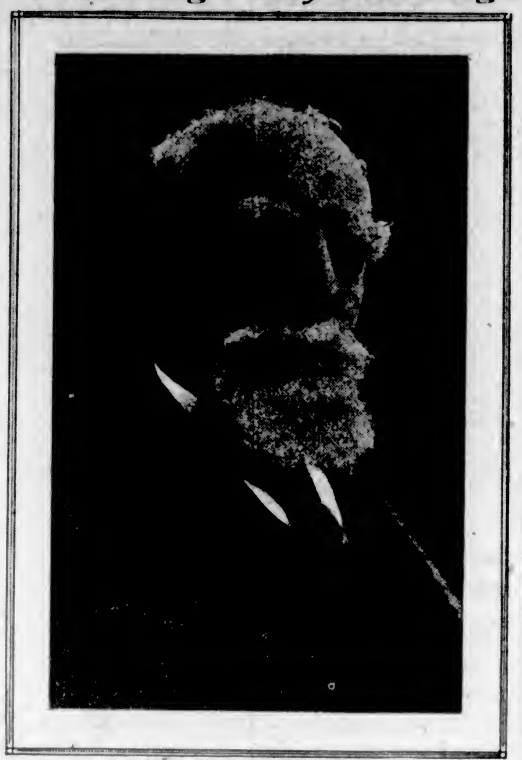

Premier Oliver States That Action Has Been Taken With Federal Authorities

Relative to the suggestion made in the Legislature Thursday afternoon by Mr. H. Despard Twigg, third member for Victoria, that the Government should strive to secure a return from the Dominion Government of the Peace River block and certain lands in the railway belt, Premier Oliver declared yesterday that action had already been taken with that object in view.

"At the conference of Provincial Premiers in Ottawa in the Fall of 1918," he said, "I formally asked the return of the Peace River land block to the Province. Mr. Meighen, who was then Minister of the Interior, tried to stop me from mentioning the subject, but I insisted and forced a vote of the meeting on it. After I had advanced British Columbia's claim I filed a formal protest with the meeting against Mr. Meighen's hostile attitude. Repeatedly the question of securing this land for the Province has been advanced, but no success has been possible."

In recent years the Provincial Government, in attempting to solve the Peace River transportation problem, has urged the Federal Government to use its Peace River lands for colonization purposes and to aid the construction of a railway into this area.

Water Shortage May Force Less Cars to Operate

No Immediate Relief Is Promised B.C. Electric Railway by Forecast of Weather

Record Drought Recorded

A peculiar situation is developing with regard to the water supply of the B.C. Electric Railway Company at Jordan River, owing to the continued drought. For a considerable period prior to the recent rains the company has had in operation the auxiliary steam plant at Brentwood Bay.

However, the rains proved entirely inadequate to meet the situation and the company is forced now to consider the probability of reducing the consumption of electrical power and also to curtail the number of street cars.

Should the company be compelled on this account to reduce its street car service, it will be the first time such an occurrence has taken place, Mr. G. M. Tripp, general superintendent, says, since the company groups, which the rugged solitude of the mountains had brought together so many human beings in this spot in the heart of the mountains.

Most of the engineers, with hundreds of workmen of all nationalities who had been engaged in the mountains, were present.

Agreement Not Yet Reached on Question of Disposing of Elk Lake Lands

Conferences lasting all day ended at 5 o'clock last evening with no definite decision reached between Mayor Pendray and city officials and Mr. J. S. Connell, who proposes to buy or lease 140 acres of Elk Lake Park and convert it into a big pleasure resort. The discussions will be resumed next week.

Yesterday morning City Engineer Preston took Aldermen Woodward, Todd and Brown and Messrs. B. S. Heisterman and Arthur Wolfenden over the Elk Lake property. Afterwards the two realty experts gave their opinion of the value of the territory involved in the negotiations. Discussing the matter with the Mayor, the aldermen agreed that the price the city should demand should be fixed with due regard to the scope of the undertaking initiated by Mr. Connell, believing that the assurance of a large investment should justify concessions in the matter of terms. Development of the land by Mr. Connell would improve the value and marketability of the rest of the city's holdings at Elk Lake, it was pointed out.

Recital of "The Fool" Interests Audience

Channing Pollock's Dramatic Allegory Interpreted Here by Rev. W. G. Martin

Channing Pollock's great dramatic masterpiece, "The Fool," as recited last night by Capt. Rev. W. G. Martin, held the utmost interest of a small audience at the Metropolitan United Church. Capt. Martin's unusual gift of elocution is equalled by his uncanny powers of impersonation, which are taxed to the utmost in this play, where a great number of vastly different characters have to be portrayed.

The recitation took two and a half hours without intermission, and in that time the interest of the audience flagged not for one instant, but followed the elocutionist through his lightning changes of personality, thrilling to the swift succession of heart-touching situations which were almost as vividly portrayed as if a whole cast of actors had represented the scene in appropriate settings. When the recitation had progressed for a little while, it was easy to tell the identity of each character without any explanation, on account of the swift change of tone and gesture adopted by the raconteur.

An Allegory—The play is one remarkably well adapted to presentation in a church, since it is a clever allegory of Christ in the modern world, embodied in the person of Daniel Glichtist. "The Fool," who gives everything that he may keep his soul and endeavors to show by example that success is measured by the achievement of faith and friendship rather than riches. This is no self-righteous character, but one which, by its humanity and unpretentious nobility, wins the respect and love of those that understand it, while suffering the jeers of those who are unaware of the common sense and good business of its principles.

The chairman, Mr. Norman Redman, introduced Captain Martin and gave a brief account of the wide experience he has had in this field of work, having devoted a great part of his time to the recitation of the world's literary masterpieces.

Special Mission—Captain Martin won the gold medal for oratory at the Toronto University and was sent by the Dominion Government on a special lecturing mission to England. Mr. McMinn, associate pastor of the Metropolitan United Church and president of the young people's work of the United Church of Vancouver Island, added to Mr. Redman's introduction an appreciation of Captain Martin's work, and at the conclusion of the entertainment expressed a wish that it were possible for him to repeat his remarkable recitation before a full house.

Mrs. A. W. Stokes sang two charming songs and Mr. Parsons provided preliminary music at the organ.

American Women Are Losing Their Beauty

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 6.—American women are losing their beauty, and their intelligence will be next to go, as beauty and intelligence go together, Albert E. Wiggam, biologist and author of New York, told the Wisconsin Teachers' Association in session here.

The expression, "beautiful but dumb," as applied to women, is nonsense, he said. A thousand beautiful women have more intelligence than a thousand homely women, he declared, adding that there are exceptions "both ways."

"The more intelligent beautiful women are allowing the less intelligent and less beautiful to have all the children. If it keeps up the next generation will be both homely and dumb," he said.

"Lend me 10 kroner!"
"Here are 10."
"I asked for 50."
"I know, but I think it fairer that we should lose 25 each!"—Vikingsen, Oslo.

To Lecture Here—Lord Noel Connell, B.A., LL.D., author, teacher and international lecturer of repute in Australia and the United States, is on a ten-month lecture tour, and will speak at the Playhouse tomorrow afternoon on the subject of "Fronterity."

Conference With Government—The committee representing local bodies recommending that succession duties be wiped out in British Columbia has an appointment with Premier Oliver and members of the executive council, to meet in the Parliament Buildings on Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

Postoffice on Monday—Monday November 8, being a statutory holiday (Thanksgiving Day), there will be no letter carrier delivery. The general delivery and registration tickets will be open from 8 to 10 a.m., and postage stamps will be sold during these hours. Money order tickets will be closed all day. The evening street letter box collections only will be made, while all mails due to be dispatched will be made up as usual.

Delegates to Winnipeg—Reporting for the committee dealing with the representation of the member of Commerce at the conference of Dominion Boards of Trade which meets in Winnipeg November 17, Mr. J. W. Spencer yesterday recommended to the directors that Mr. P. W. Schwengers be named as delegate. He said it was expected the city would be sending the Mayor also, and that an effort would be made to have all the delegates in attendance visit Victoria before returning East. The report was adopted.

Rider Is Injured—Mr. Ernest Gough, of 2309 Quadra Street, was knocked down and badly bruised last evening when riding home on his bicycle. Mr. Gough was riding up Quadra Street hill, and had passed Hillside Avenue when he was knocked down by the motor car of Mrs. J. S. Holdier, of West Saanich Road, who was driving homeward in the same direction. Mr. Gough had no reflector on the rear mudguard of his cycle, which was explained to the police when telling them she did not see the rider. Mr. Gough was taken to the St. Joseph's Hospital, but his injuries were found to be only slight.

HER NERVES BETTER NOW

Received Much Benefit by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Chatham, Ont.—"I started to get weak after my second child was born, and I was so nervous until I could not do my own housework, and was so afraid to stay alone at any time. I had a girl working for me a whole year before I was able to do my washing again. Through a friend I learned of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and took four bottles of it. I gave birth to a baby boy the 4th day of September, 1922. I am still doing my own work and washing. Of course, I don't feel well every day because I don't get my rest as the baby is so cross. But when I get my rest I feel fine. I am still taking the Vegetable Compound, and am going to keep on with it until cured. My nerves are a lot better since taking it. I can stay alone day or night and not be the least frightened. You can use this letter as a testimonial and I will answer letters from women asking about the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. CHAS. CARSON, 27 Forsyth St., Chatham, Ont. Mrs. Carson is willing to write to anyone suffering from female trouble.

Man Kills Self To Get Case Before Public

Scandinavian Takes Own Life in House of Parliament at Ottawa—Believed Himself Ill-Treated

OTTAWA, Nov. 6.—Officials of the Royal Canadian mounted police are somewhat at a loss as to what to do with the body of Augustus Swanson, sixty-eight-year-old Scandinavian, formerly of Pinney, Man., who committed suicide in the House of Parliament here today. No inquest will be held.

Swanson had asserted that he was swindled out of a farm in Western Canada, and for fifteen years had been trying to have what he considered a just claim against the Federal Government settled. His claim concerned a homestead in Manitoba, which he lost some years ago, and which litigation failed to restore to him.

The shooting occurred within a short distance of the office of the Minister of Justice, the spot being chosen by the aged man for his deed as a final protest against the injustice which he believed he was laboring under.

No funeral arrangements have been made, pending location of relatives of the dead man. He is known to have relatives somewhere in the United States, but they have not yet been reached.

James Joud, of the Union Mission, who often helped Swanson, and R. B. Since, a lawyer, had often been threatened by Swanson, who threatened to shoot someone or himself, "in order to bring my case before the public."

His appearance had caused nervousness in various parts of Government departments, it is stated, his attitude being often truculent.

Island May Be Tourist Mecca

Mr. J. S. Connell, Who Plans Elk Lake Resort, Says This Is Playground of Continent

Mr. J. S. Connell, of Vancouver, attended the midday luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce and outlined the idea he had in connection with the proposed creation of a tourist centre at Elk Lake. He said he did not want to make any promises, but was thoroughly imbued with the idea that Vancouver Island was the playground of the North American continent. If it were fully developed it should be the mecca of tourists.

He had had his attention drawn to Elk Lake and was charmed with the location. His plan was to have an eighteen-hole golf course. The plan carried also the idea of a hotel on the island, and perhaps a number of cottages. These latter would not be places where cooking could be carried on, the dining being confined to the chalet. There would also be tennis courts and bathing and boating facilities for the visitors.

If his proposition resulted in the reaching of terms with the city there would be a little delay as possible to setting out the plan. He had in connection to have a nine-hole golf course in operation and the hotel functioning for next season.

In reply to questions asked him Mr. Connell said that he was not over only sufficient ground for the purposes intended by his plan. This would mean about 140 acres, he believed.

Tourist Concert Place Undecided

Question Will Be Taken Up by Committee and Settled at Early Date

The Tourist Trade Group of the Chamber of Commerce held its luncheon yesterday with a splendid attendance of members. The question of the tourist concert place was proposed to have in the Crystal Garden. This season remains still unsettled. It was explained by Mr. J. W. Aude, of the Chamber of Commerce, that the committee concluded not to have the hard-wood floor laid in the banquet room. This might affect the holding of the entertainments for tourists there, it was felt.

After discussion as to the carrying out of arrangements, it was decided to leave the matter in the hands of a small committee consisting of Messrs. Herbert Kent, A. E. Humphries and W. A. Willis to investigate and make a final report.

A complaint from an Anacortes yachtsman concerning the restrictions placed against his operating in local waters was laid over pending fuller information.

Mr. C. H. French offered to place at the disposal of the group a picture showing the Causeway and the surrounding area as it existed fifty years ago. This he offered to the group if it would see it placed in a durable and protective frame and placed on view somewhere near the Post-office. This subject will be looked into.

The necessity of properly labelling the Chinese bell and other relics at Beacon Hill Park was referred to and will be investigated.

Three new members of the group were introduced to the meeting. These were Messrs. E. C. Warren, J. L. Dunlop and H. H. Hewitt.

Chamber Decides On More Meetings

Frequent Membership Lunches, Forum Gatherings Recommended

The Chamber of Commerce will consider the matter of having mid-day luncheons open to the membership of the body. A special committee will be appointed in keeping with a resolution passed by the directors yesterday to take this matter up.

This action was taken following the report from the new forum committee which recommended the holding of forum meetings once a month, over the period from November to May. Mr. J. H. Beattie, reporting for this committee, pointed out that the opinion was general there should be more frequent opportunities afforded the general membership to meet.

In addition to the forum meetings it was also recommended by this committee that the regular quarterly general meetings provided for in the constitution should be adhered to.

Mr. J. O. Cameron alluded to the fact that there should be luncheon meetings also if it could be assured that the membership would attend. This was made a success in other bodies of a like kind.

Mr. J. L. Beckwith, in supporting this idea, said that in order to make it a success there should be an assurance that the members would be available for these membership luncheons.

It was therefore decided to name a committee to take the matter up.

Washington National Guard to Take Part in Armistice Services at New Westminster

NEW WESTMINSTER, Nov. 6.—Special permission from the Department of Militia at Ottawa has been secured for a contingent of the 161st Regiment of the Washington National Guard to come to New Westminster from Bellingham to participate in services next Sunday commemorating the signing of the Armistice. This, it is said, will be one of the few occasions on which uniformed United States soldiers have made a formal visit to Canada.

The American troops will arrive on Saturday and remain in British Columbia over the week-end.

The New Westminster bugle band will go to Bellingham to take part in a Thanksgiving Day celebration next Wednesday, the anniversary of the signing of the Armistice.

Court of Revision Finishes Its Work

Having considered the smallest number of appeals presented in years the civic court of revision yesterday completed its labors for the year with the signing of the assessment roll. In all, about $50,000 was added to the assessment on land and approximately $20,000 off the assessment on improvements. The combined effect of these reductions will have an almost inappreciable effect on the mill levy for next year.

Silver Tea Held

The silver tea held at Mrs. Kingham's home, last Wednesday, was a great success, socially and financially, netting a substantial sum for the Christmas work of the "Ministering Circle of King's Daughters," under whose auspices it was held. The home-cooked and candy stall was in charge of Mesdames Hardie and Sargison; the fancy work and plain sewing was presided over by Mesdames Harvey and Miss Thain, while the afternoon tea was given by Mrs. Watson and Miss Gill, with many helpers. The excellent programme, kindly arranged by Miss K. Roberts, gave great pleasure. The elocutionary numbers given by Mrs. Davies were realistically rendered and were much enjoyed, while Mrs. Leiser's beautiful voice delighted her hearers. The accompanist, Mrs. Stuart, also rendered several solos most charmingly.

The Wise Bird Catcher the Christmas Presents While Sales Are in Season—Cinderella's Wedding—Roses for a Bride—Captain Kidd Influences Feminine Millinery—Lingerie Warm and Dainty

This is male season, and those who are wise are benefitting thereby by purchasing their Christmas gifts early. Probably the most spectacular sale of the month is that of Mitchell & Dunlop, who are selling out their old stock at a price almost too little to believe.

Their sale of pearls is the talk of the town—big pearls, little pearls, and pearls of many strands, all indestructible and imported from France. As for other things, there is everything from clocks to leather bags, and the quaint Dutch silver which is having such a vogue just at present.

H. E. Munday, of the British Boot Shop, is offering shoes at special prices. Today there will be an extra special sale of men's leather shoes, and sports wear and for wear on more frivolous occasions.

People with long, slim feet, who cannot find shoes to fit them, will be glad to know that Munday now carries the Church shoe in a range of fittings from double A to E. The narrow fitting has recently been introduced in this shoe and will be a boon, no doubt, to many friends of ours.

Soon the newspaper ads and the street car cards will be screaming "Give her a car for Christmas!" "Give him a photograph, he will treasure it!" "Don't forget the loves chocolate, even though she's married. Give her a box for Christmas and win her undying love." And so on—I know all about it! That awful feeling? The advice jumps out at you from every treacherous corner, an inescapable reminder of the flight of time and the evanescence of bank rolls!

But about the best advice for a present for a man is "Give him a watch." "Give him a watch," is of course, if he hasn't got one, or if the one he has has grown battered through long service.

I went to the Green Jewelry Store yesterday and looked at some beautiful "Cyma" Swiss watches for men. The "Tank" shape is a square, gold wrist watch with a radium dial and bound to the wrist with a very broad, but leather strap set in each corner. For the hours of a dining, and dancing, however, I would choose the adorable, diminutive timepiece I saw of chased platinum, oblong in shape, and with a small sapphire set in each corner. Had Cinderella worn such a dainty thing I am sure she would not have overstayed her time, for she would have been looking at it constantly.

And speaking of Cinderella—do you know that she is being married to Prince Charming and that the wedding is on view for all to see in the windows of the "Bee-Hive" on Douglas Street? Last year the first episode of Cinderella's romantic history were illustrated in a tableau of dolls, in two windows. In the first window set Cinderella, wearing before the fire, and in the second she was at the ball, enjoying herself immensely. The happy sequel of these world-famous scenes is most cleverly shown in a window full of dolls dressed by Mrs. Fowler.

Cinderella, most glitteringly gowned, walks by the side of Prince Charming, in his blue velvet and plume. They are preceded by two flower girls and attended by the Ugly Sisters—most perfectly ugly in their splendor!—and each has a ticket on her garment bearing her name and address. Amongst those present are "Auntie Mary" from the Prairie, "Violet Ray" from Foggy Bay, "Joan" and "Midge" from Spring Ridge, "Princess Pat" from the Malahat, "Jack" and "Jill" from Beacon Hill, and others. And standing in a place of great prominence is the Fairy Godmother, waving a benignant wand over the assembly and evidently feeling quite pleased with the effect she is creating with her devastating costume of white and gold.

And speaking of weddings!—If you know of a bride to whom you want to send an expression of your good wishes, and you simply cannot think what to send, I will tell you where to go. In the Corner Flower Shop, which stands at the corner of Broad Street and View Street, you can buy bridal roses the color of a cherub's finger and almost as small as hawthorn blossoms.

There are roses of other kinds as well, and carnations the color of coral, and violets, fresh and crisp and cool. There are no gifts in all the world that speak the thoughts of the giver so truly as flowers do.

The chrysanthemums are very lovely now, glowing through a wide range of lovely colors, from white, through all the sunlit shades of yellow to the deepest, bright pink of the pompon chrysanthemum, which has a cluster of several starry blooms upon each stem.

Large shipments of Dutch bulbs have just been imported, ready for the winter planting.

Of more practical and less perishable beauty are the flowers intended for other purposes, the French flowers of silk and satin, of cloth of gold and silver, such as have just arrived at the millinery department of the Hudson's Bay Store. There is a preponderance of velvet flowers, but some of the loveliest sprays are of satin and silk combined with diaphanous metal cloth.

Feathers have this year so cleverly disguised themselves as to be sometimes difficult to recognize as feathers. There are those, for instance, which by clever clustering and clipping, are made into the smartest speckled tail-feather bows. Then, of course, there are those which are quite frank about their identity, and spray and droop in the good old-fashioned way.

I saw an advertisement today for Robert W. Chambers' new book, "The Man They Hanged," which, it seems, is a goodly tale of adventure, revealing the fact that, contrary to all fondly held beliefs, Captain Kidd was not a pirate at all, but a "loving husband and fond father." Alas, that all our illusions should be thus ruthlessly shattered!

For Captain Kidd as a pirate is almost an international hero. As a home-loving individual he loses all of his glamor. I have heard it said that it is the loveliest bad man that wins a woman's adoration. And as imitation is the sincerest form of flattery, no doubt that is why women love to imitate that dear rogue, Robin Hood, in the matter of hats and that other rascal, Captain Kidd. For the pirate hat is just at present at the height of its popularity. For those who can wear it there is something decidedly dashing in the broad up-and-back sweep of the wide brim, with its sides down-drooping. For coloring it favors black combined with bright colors, as with gold or silver.

Other hats shown by the Hudson's Bay Company are the trimmed velours, which are a compromise between sports and formal headwear, and are for that reason bound to win popularity with busy women. The smartest of these, I think, are those trimmed with burnt or cut designs. For extremely formal afternoon or restaurant wear the most suitable hats one can find are those of heavy silver or gold metallic cloth, which resemble helmets in their hard brilliance.

In the lingerie department of the Hudson's Bay Store the most popular lingerie is the Shetland woolly wear, and little wonder, for it gives such perfect warmth at no sacrifice of essential daintiness. It is woven with a spider web delicacy, both in white and pink, and comes in negligees, dressing gowns, vests and step-ins.

Victoria is on tip-toe with expectation of two great events: the coming of Alfred Hollins, the blind organist, on November 9, and the coming of Effrem Zimbalist, violinist, on November 11. There is no magic like music. There are no keys for opening the doors of enchantment, and no threads for the weaving of dreams so powerful as the keys of piano and organ and the strings of a violin.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 6.—On a tour of the British Dominions to investigate the possibilities of increased immigration from the British Isles, Commissioner David Lamb, head of the Salvation Army Emigrant Department, has arrived here. In an address before the Canadian Club, the commissioner declared it was "the absorbing power of the Overseas Dominions and not social or economic pressure at home, that determined the flow of emigration from the Motherland."

Farmers' Institute At Cobble Hill Is In Favor of Grants

Is Opposed to Policy of Checking Small Agricultural Shows in Their Benefit to Rural Districts

Carload Lots of Lime

COBBLE HILL, Nov. 5.—A directors' meeting of the Cobble Hill Agricultural Association and Shawinigan Farmers' Institute was held last night. A letter from the secretary of the B.C. Fair Association was considered, containing recommendations from the association to the Department of Agriculture that Government grants to some forty of the smaller fairs be discontinued. The following resolution was passed for transmission to the association:

"Whereas the country fair is, in our opinion, one of the principal means of encouraging and maintaining community life, and therefore has a sphere of usefulness that should not be stifled, at least by a Government department;

"And whereas such fairs do much to encourage small settlers, who otherwise would be prevented from showing their produce by reason of inability to produce larger centres;

"And whereas a suggested radius of fifty miles from a central fair is, in our opinion, ridiculous;

"Be it resolved that we, the directors of the Cobble Hill Agricultural Association and Shawinigan Farmers' Institute, do hereby register our protest against and complete disagreement with all the resolutions contained in a circular letter of October 14 last, as having been passed at a meeting of the B.C. Fair Association."

It was decided to send a delegate to the special meeting of Farmers' Institutes, District A, Friday.

Further efforts are to be made to secure lime carload lots at a low rate. The president, Lt.-Col. F. T. Oldham, occupied the chair. There were also present Messrs. W. Mudge, E. C. Nightingale and G. A. Cheesie, secretary.

Plebiscite Has Been Planned on Cows

Cattle Roaming at Large Occasion Much Trouble to Owners of Gardens

PORT ALBERNI, Nov. 5.—The regular meeting of the City Council was enlivened somewhat last Monday evening by the attendance of a delegation of stock owners of the city, who attended for the purpose of expressing their views on the possibility of the Council prohibiting stock to run at large within the city. The question of cattle and gardens, during the last two months, has taken up considerable of the Council's time, and at the last regular meeting a special committee was appointed by the Mayor to investigate and bring in a recommendation. A communication was read from the chairman of the committee on Monday night, and later in the evening Alderman Banders read a committee report recommending that at the next municipal election a plebiscite be taken on the following question:

"Are you in favor of prohibiting the running at large of any stock within the following area, to wit: That portion of the municipality bounded on the east by Tenth Avenue, on the north by the Redford Road, on the south by Bruce and South Streets, and on the west by the Alberni Canal?"

After discussion, the question was put and the report adopted, which means that at the next municipal election in January, 1926, the ratepayers of the city will vote on this question.

Before the report was adopted, however, many expressions of opinion were heard. Alderman Durant, who is Acting Mayor in the absence of Mayor R. J. Burde, invited the delegation to address the Council, and Mr. Mulcaister advised that if cows were restricted there would be a shortage of milk and an increase in dead grass, etc., which would constitute a severe fire menace unless a large sum of money was spent in cutting it. He was in favor of eliminating the young stock from the city, and also suggested a plebiscite being taken. Mr. Fender engaged in an altercation with the Acting Mayor. It was his opinion that garden owners should fence their property, and if neighbors' cows bothered them in the daytime, then the wife of the garden owner should stay home and drive the cows away, but under no consideration should the cow owners be bothered.

Mr. Davey, sr., remarked that he had lived in the city for twenty-five years and had owned cows and had grown gardens, some of the best gardens in the city, and had never had a cow in his garden or destroy his property.

Alderman Fleming took issue on this statement with him and remarked he was present one time when a cow broke down Mr. Davey's fence and carried it clear into the middle of his garden. Mr. Davey, however, stated that he did not consider any damage had been done.

Mr. Marshall advised that if the cows were prohibited there would be a number of people down out of a living and likely the city would have to keep some of them.

Ex-Alderman Blower could not see where there was any trouble if the police would enforce the present by-law.

The Chief of Police, who was present, asked Mr. Blower if he remembered the occasion two years ago when he (Alderman Blower) was a member of the Council, and a drive had been made to round up cattle at night, and how he had objected most strenuously because the Chief had engaged Mr. Blower's sons to assist in the round-up?

Mr. Blower remarked that he remembered the occasion, and then retired from any further part in the discussion.

A plebiscite would be taken in January. The Acting Mayor said, when everyone would have a chance to express their views. In the meantime possibly the stockowners would endeavor to improve conditions so that it would not be necessary for a vote to be taken.

SIDNEY, Nov. 6.—A successful silver tea was held by the Ladies' Aid of the United Church in Wesley Hall on Wednesday. The ladies, who were all wearing costumes representing characters from "David Copperfield," entertained their guests in an excellent manner. During the afternoon a scene, "Copperfield and the Walter," was staged by Jean Speedie, Horace Peck, Stanhope Rowton and George Wylie, the children taking their parts extremely well. The candy stall, under the management of Mesdames Ingamells, Taylor and Wilson, was well patronized, and a dainty tea was served, doing credit both to the kitchen committee, Mesdames J. T. It was decided to attend the Armistice service to be held in Cheminus on Sunday afternoon. Reid and Mrs. Russell Robinson to take the south part, Miss Marion Porter and Mrs. Harry Southin from the station on as far as the Lewisville Hotel, and Mrs. L. G. At the conclusion of the meeting a dainty tea was served by Mrs. Porter.

On Thursday afternoon the monthly business meeting of St. Michael's W.A. was held, sixteen members being present. Arrangements were completed for the sale to be held on November 12 in the old hall. The sale is to open at 3:30, tea being served during the afternoon. There will be home cooking and needlework stalls, grab bags for the children, white elephant stall, and various other attractions. During the evening a musical programme will be rendered and light refreshments sold. No admission fee is charged. Falcons and Duncanites to Clash at Y.M.C.A. Tonight

Up-Island Team Will Furnish First Intercity Competition in Basketball This Season on Local Floor—Duncan Girls Will Play First Church Axioms

Tonight at the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium, the Falcons, local city and Vancouver Island champions, will clash with the fast-stepping team from Duncan in the first intercity basketball game of the 1925-26 season. Both teams are noted for their speed and deadly shooting, so that the outcome of the game will be in doubt until the final whistle.

The visiting squad is a snappy aggregation as far as basketball is concerned, and included in their line-up are such noted players as Joe French and the Diron boys, who are all well known to local basketball fans. Many of the Duncan fans are expected to accompany their team to the Capital City in the hope of seeing their favorites hand the Falcons a drubbing. Last year the local boys noosed out the Up-Islanders in the knockout league, so that Joe French will lead his pet into the fray with a double determination to win, and to wipe out their former defeat.

On the other hand, the First Church lads are not going to take anything for granted and are going out on the floor to "do or die." Captain Jack "Red" McKenzie links his squad will be more than equal to the task of lowering their opponents' colors, and the rest of the team will back him in this. The locals have eight players on their list, so that just who will start tonight remains to be seen. However, every player will have a chance to "do his stuff" before the game is over.

Prior to the big game, a preliminary game will be staged between the Duncan girls and the First Church Axioms. Last year's intermediate champions of Victoria. This will be a return game, as the locals journeyed up to Duncan last season and were noosed out of a victory by a scant one point, which just goes to show how evenly these two teams were, and are, matched. This game will start at 8:15 sharp and will be immediately followed by the senior game about 9 o'clock.

Probable Line-Up
The probable line-up of the four teams are:
Axioms—M. Wilson, J. Wilson, H. Ryan, M. Briggs, K. Forbes, P. Gay, D. Walton.
Duncan—J. Castley, H. Best, J. Arthur, B. Egan, A. Lomas, H. Cantley.

Edmonton May Lose Eskimos
Dispute With City Over Fair Wage Clause May Mean Transfer to Regina

EDMONTON, Nov. 6.—The Edmonton Journal today says:
"Edmonton is likely to be without a professional hockey team this winter."
"Rumors that a fair wage dispute with the city may lead to the Eskimos being transferred to Regina were current on Friday."

"It appears that the franchise holders, McKenzie and Keats, refuse to sign up the agreement for the lease of the arena while the fair wage, which will affect no more than four men at the most, remains in the agreement."
"McKenzie and Keats have been negotiating with a view to moving the team to Regina, but it is understood that no decision has been arrived at yet."

"It is understood that the reason McKenzie and Keats so strongly object to the city altering a contract that they have already entered into with the exhibition board, is that this might lead to the city making regulations at any later time it decided to do so."

"If the team is moved to Regina, and the general feeling among the city seems to be that it will—Edmonton's chances of seeing professional hockey this winter are decidedly slim. There is not much hope of a franchise to be granted for this city if the Eskimos move. In any event, if a franchise were granted, it would be of little use this season."

English Golf Officials Are Visitors to Canada
MONTREAL, Que., Nov. 6.—W. Norman Rose, prominent officer of the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews, Scotland, and J. Kenneth Greenhill, of the Honourable Company of Edinburgh Golfers, are visitors to Canada on business. They were entertained at the Country Club, Brookline, where they played with Mr. J. W. Wheeler, captain of the club, and Mr. Herbert Jacques, a member of the committee of the United States Golf Association, at Montreal. Mr. A. J. Hills introduced the visitors to the beauties of Mount Bruno.

Mr. Rose has been chairman of the green committee of the Royal and Ancient Golf Club for some years back, a member of the handicap committee, and also a member of the rules of golf committee, and is therefore of exceptional standing in golfing circles.

Mr. Rose and Mr. Greenhill have left for the Pacific coast by the route of the Canadian Pacific. Mr. Stanley Thompson, architect of the golf course at Jasper Park, will show them over the eighteen holes, and while it is beyond the lodge season, the course can, yet be seen to good advantage, and local residents still get opportunities to play.

Australian Boxer Sued in United States Courts For Breach of Contract

BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 6.—Charles Lucas, of Australia, has brought suit for $10,000 in Suffolk Superior Court against William Cook, Australian boxer, for alleged breach of contract. Lucas claimed that on May 18 last, in London, England, Cook agreed verbally to fight him on November 15, 1925, at the Uplands Golf Club, but failed to do so.

Hard Ground Halts Senior Rugby Game

Oaks-United Service Match Is Called Off—Intermediates Decide to Carry On

The senior rugby game between the Oak Bay "Oaks" and the United Services has been cancelled on account of the hard state of the grounds. The game was to be played either at the Wilkes Park or the Canteen grounds but an examination showed that both were as hard as cement and officials of the union decided to take no chances of having any of the players hurt and accordingly cancelled the match.

The intermediate league will go ahead as scheduled, Campbell Samson, president of the league, announced last night. Only two games will be played today, one at Cowichan between the Oak Bay Wanderers and Cowichan and the other at the Victoria High School grounds between the J. B. A. and Victoria College.

Enough rain has fallen in the Cowichan district in recent days to make the ground soft enough for rugby while the High School grounds are being watered daily and have a good grass surface. The match between the High School will start at 3 o'clock.

The following players of the Oak Bay Wanderers are asked to be at Campbell's drug store not later than 1:30 p.m. to see Dr. Cowichan: Russell, Harman, Noel, Parfitt, Hicks, A. Wilson, B. Forbes, C. Forbes, Lister, Laundry, Horne, Crane, Newton, Dunn, Morris, B. Wilson and Jones and Bullis; reserve, Renwick.

Sooke Basketball

SOOKE, Nov. 6.—The first basketball game of the season will be played in Charter's hall, Saturday, November 7. The teams are J.B.A. vs. Sooke A; Sons of England vs. Sooke B.

Golf Simplified

By Charles (Chick) Evans, Jr.

Copyright, John F. Dille Co.

"Bobby" Jones
It seems to me, however, that in Bobby's victories he has been deprived of some of the interesting memories of a national amateur, and those are the thrills of close-fought matches—the man-to-man conflicts that set the amateur outside the open. I look back on my matches, and I feel that I could not spare such contests as I had with Sweetser at Mayfield; Lewis at the Engineers; Whitney at Lerion; Krammer at Apawamis; Sawyer at Detroit; Powers at Brookline; Hilton at Chicago; Byers at Garden City; Hunter at Minneapolis; Wood at Denver; Jones at Memphis, and hosts of others. Ah! those are the great days when a single blade of grass made your heart stop or sent it racing. What is the reason for the change? Does it lie in golf courses, or balls, or in both?

It is probably the finest course of its kind in the world. It is a marvel of construction, and a great testimonial to the skill of W. C. Powers, Jr., and Emil Loewler, but wonderful as it is, it is just what we want for a championship test.

I overheard someone counselling Francis Ouimet on his failure to qualify at Oakmont by saying that he could point with pride on his splendid playing in the open at Worcester. He replied that the amateur was more of a prize to him.

If the new balls continue to lengthen the courses, and long-distance hitting and putting turn the "championships into boys' events, maybe championships golf is destined to become a boys' game. Let us hope, however, that we can keep a fairly reasonable length to our courses, for prize money with every acre of land under the sun is the reason advanced for limiting the quality of the amateur. It was economy; and yet, a course as difficult as Oakmont should have a week's practice before the event, and thus the economy disappears, and the man who cannot afford a week's practice is at an unfair advantage. Unless we can adopt the British role system where the courses are known year by year, it would be far more economical to select simpler courses, that might be learned in a day or so. Otherwise we might find ourselves going down the list to eight qualifiers, and from that to all medal play. The little time given men can afford must be given up to learning the course.

The Michigan State champion, who is also Professor Carlton Wells of the University of Michigan, told me that he interviewed many players at Oakmont, and that he did not find a single one in favor of the new method of qualification. Some of the severest criticism came from the galleries. They said they paid their admission money to see real matches, the man-to-man fight, and there was none. Any young golfer could shoot a couple of good rounds for qualifying and then blow up. They said this method would naturally produce one-sided matches, and public interest would be destroyed.

I offer this view of a very intelligent man, for I realize that there are two sides to every question for the public to discuss.

As far as the economical side is concerned, I submit that a week's practice on a course is as expensive as a week's tournament play to every man except school boys and juniors.

Professor Says Human Fatigue Is Measurable

Chiefly a Matter of Supply of Oxygen—Makes Comparisons Between Records of Men and Women

Sport Reduced to Science

(Copyright, 1925, by North American Newspaper Alliance)

Human interest in sport and in athletic accomplishments have made it inevitable that scientists should endeavor to determine the maximum speed that any human being may be expected to attain in running a certain distance, the maximum height or distance that a man may jump; whether or not it will be possible for a woman to equal the records of a man, and similar questions. Professor A. V. Hill, noted British physiologist, believes that the answers to all of these questions lie in a complete understanding of what we call fatigue. Among the varieties of fatigue he lists that resulting in a short time from an extremely violent effort, and that which follows a lesser effort conducted over a long period of time. Both these forms are essentially muscular fatigue. In addition there are such factors as blisters, soreness, stiffness, nervous exhaustion, sleeplessness and changes in the body which will influence the type of effort that the competitor can make. The first form of fatigue is measurable and laboratory investigators have already accumulated much interesting data concerning it.

Mature of Oxygen
The athletes indulging in any strenuous effort use up oxygen. Obviously if he puts all that he has into the effort he will use up his oxygen and, taking this element from his tissues. It is possible to measure the oxygenation of his tissues and to determine to what extent he has given himself wholly to the effort.

Professor Hill points out, a man cannot exhaust himself wholly in a one hundred or two hundred yards' race, as a quarter-mile race in the case of a first-class sprinter is enough to produce complete inability to make any immediate further effort. In one man an oxygen debt of fifteen liters is incurred by the time he has run a quarter-mile race. In another case a first-class sprinter is enough to produce complete inability to make any immediate further effort. In one man an oxygen debt of fifteen liters is incurred by the time he has run a quarter-mile race. In another case a first-class sprinter is enough to produce complete inability to make any immediate further effort.

There will be a practice game on Monday at Oak Bay Park, starting at 2:45 p.m.

Miss Schwengers Wins

Miss Dorothy Schwengers won the captain's prize of the Colwood Golf and Country Club for the three best medal score cards during October.

Necessary Factors
Professor Hill does not neglect the factor of form or skill in attaining a perfect performance. He finds, however, that such skill has both physiological and psychological bases and that these things can be definitely determined. They include such factors as correct adjustment of effort, perfect timing, and elimination of unnecessary movement and vibration. Assuming that these factors are perfectly controlled, it is possible to estimate the maximum effort that any individual may put forth.

Experience in running long distance has shown the advantages of a fast start. By many athletes the physiological advantage of such a start is given undue prominence. The physiologists have found that the sooner the respiration and the circulation are driven up to their maximum values the greater will be the amount of oxygen taken by the body, and associated with this, the greater the amount expendable during the race. Therefore, the practice of starting a long distance race fast and then settling down to uniform speed has much to commend it from the scientific point of view.

One of the finest examples of the application of the scientific method to the affairs of ordinary life is the analysis of the attainment of maximum distance in the broad jump. It is well known that success in broad jumping involves leaving the ground high. It is equally important that the broad jumper attain great speed before leaving the ground. Just before raising he naturally must check his speed but he attains a velocity. If he is a champion jumper, equal to that of a man completing the one hundred yards' dash.

The Champion
De Hart Hubbard, champion broad jumper of the world who has leaped almost twenty-six feet, is also holder of numerous records for the short dashes. Professor Hill calculates that the broad jumper must raise his height of five feet nine inches in the air in order to reach the distance that he actually covers, i.e., his centre of gravity must be nearly six feet in the air if he is to remain for 0.83 seconds above the ground traveling at a velocity of one hundred yards in ten seconds and one-half feet. Probably De Hart Hubbard has never taken the trouble to look into these calculations, but that is the consummation he achieves when he takes his record-breaking jumps. The analysis is an indication that the athletic performance is a science as well as an art.

Will Make Motion To Limit Salaries For Hockey Players

Montreal, Nov. 6.—Professional hockey men from various parts of Canada and the United States were gathered in Montreal today for the annual meeting of the National Hockey League, which takes place here tomorrow.

It is stated on good authority that the motion to limit the salaries which will be advanced by New York and Toronto, a motion which will almost certainly be put through to limit the number of players a club may carry through the season. According to one report, the Toronto St. Patricks will move that the salary limit per club be in the vicinity of $35,000 a season.

Mr. Harold Le Page, first speaker on the affirmative, championing the present age over the Victorian era, mentioned many ways in which he claimed that the morals of today were superior to those in the past. There had been a marked increase in education. People were today more refined, and were taking keen interest in art and music. People today were using their own initiative and making strides heretofore unattained. The increase in women's privileges, the franchise and occupancy of public offices was raising the morality of politics. The evils of child labor in factories were abolished. Prohibition, which he stated was good for the country and uplifted the working classes, was in effect in many places. Internationally great advances had been made. The League of Nations had been organized and was operating in the interests of world peace.

Influence of Dope

The influence of the dope traffic today was tending to pieces the world more than anything else, was the claim of Mr. William Weekes, of Vancouver. Narcotic drugs were undermining civilization, and constituted the greatest menace confronting this or any other country. The use of these drugs was spreading among the youth, and young people were now craving for them, he continued, quoting statistics to prove his assertion. Dope had an inseparable relationship with crime. The greater the use of dope, the larger the increase in the amount of crime. Literature, the barometer of public morals, was a million times better in the Victorian age than at present. "Today we are living in an age of licentiousness, suggestive literature, and it is so because the public demands such trashy reading," he contended.

Mr. E. DeR. Vignot gave many illustrations of conditions that prevailed during the Victorian age, which, he claimed, were much worse and lower in moral standards than those which exist today. He quoted extracts from books, periodicals and newspapers to substantiate his claims.

More Sophisticated Today

The final speaker, Mr. William Taylor, Vancouver, declared young people today were much more sophisticated than during the Victorian era. All they sought at present was excitement, gambling, the chase of dancings, or the thrill of dope. There was a disinclination to work. With such characteristics prevalent, how

Later it was noticed that an accomplice of Zaniboni had the habit of meeting General Capella, who has been arrested, charged with having a part in the plot. The meeting place usually was on the Cavour Bridge over the Tiber, where Capella always arrived in a public cab. They usually arrived about for a few minutes, and the Spaniards, in support of General Capella, handed over money to Zaniboni. The last time that General Capella met this man was on Tuesday, after which the general left immediately for Turin.

Gets Better Room

Later it was learned that a room had been engaged in two other hotels nearby, because there was no certainty as to which balcony Premier Mussolini was to use to review the victory parade. It was determined that the Premier would appear on the balcony facing the Corso, instead of the one facing the Piazza Colonna, so Zaniboni decided to occupy the Dragon Hotel rooms.

Five Others Arrested

Since Zaniboni was taken into custody by the authorities, events have followed in quick succession. Five persons have been arrested in the far north, because there was no certainty as to which balcony Premier Mussolini was to use to review the victory parade. It was determined that the Premier would appear on the balcony facing the Corso, instead of the one facing the Piazza Colonna, so Zaniboni decided to occupy the Dragon Hotel rooms.

Princess Ena Makes West Coast Circuit

The Princess Ena has completed a round trip of Vancouver Island, picking up freight which was not carried by the Princess Maquinn on her last trip. Business has grown so to the extent that the service warrants an intermediary steamer, and Captain J. W. Troup, manager of the B.C. Coast service, says that whenever an extra steamer is needed such will be sent. He wishes to correct an impression which he declares is not founded on fact, that the company is trying to crowd its West Coast business on the Princess Maquinn, while on the contrary adequate provision will be made for all such trips.

The Princess Louisa has been in drydock, and will be ready to go on the triangular run on Sunday.

Mr. Ahearn May Rest Assured Lester Patrick Has Real Team

OTTAWA, Nov. 6.—Because the Ottawa Humane Society, under the auspices of which the Victoria Cougars, world's hockey champions, will play here, were much worried by reports in the press that Frank Frederickson, Victoria's centre player, will not be with Victoria, President Frank Ahearn, of the Ottawa Senators, wired Lester Patrick, Victoria manager, asking what the real situation is, as all preparations for the games were being held up at Ahearn's request pending word from Patrick.

In his reply Patrick asked Mr. Ahearn to disregard press reports "as all my star players signed up and are in training here in Winnipeg except Foyston. Foyston was only a substitute last year. Assume your friends we have a real club."

Her Excellency Lady Byng, of Vimy, is taking an active interest in the benefit.

Mainland Debaters Win Over College

U. of B.C. Representatives, on Negative of Argument, Gain Popular Verdict

The debating team representing the University of British Columbia, Vancouver, consisting of Messrs. William Weekes and William T. Taylor, defeated the representative of Victoria College, Messrs. Harold Le Page and E. DeR. Vignot, last night in an intercollegiate debate at Victoria College on the subject, "Resolved that the morals of this so-called jazz age are superior to those which prevailed during the Victorian age."

The Vancouver debaters, who upheld the negative, were declared winners of the debate. They secured the decision by a comfortable margin over their opponents.

Mr. Harold Le Page, first speaker on the affirmative, championing the present age over the Victorian era, mentioned many ways in which he claimed that the morals of today were superior to those in the past. Soccer "Rep" Team

To the Sporting Editor:
Sir,—As an ardent follower of soccer I really am surprised at the selection committee's choice of a "rep" team from our first division. The general impression gathered from all sources is that the chosen team is weak and not at all commensurate with the Vets, who will have a good team out and give the fans value for their "two-bits." The following players seem flattered by their selection: Weir's exhibition in last week's show him as a washout; No. 1, Coster; No. 2, Hawkes; No. 3, the latter unfinished and dangerous; and T. Watt, after his poor display in the Wests (he couldn't gain a place on the Juniors' eleven on present form). A team composed of players like these would, in my estimation, justify their selection? Bob Whyte (Wests), Mesher (Esquimalt), Tuckwell (R.O.E.), Howds (Vic. United), Hay (Esquimalt), Connor (R.O.E.), Mulcahy (Wests), Wright (Wests), Warren (Esquimalt) and Davis (Esquimalt).

Why doesn't the Victoria Rugby Union take the tip and enshrine Walter Brynjolfsson's boot (No. 77) with which he kicked the goal which scored the only points against the All-Blacks for all British Columbia, and place it in a glass case?

Talking of memorials and such, the proposal to name a high school at Menasha, Colo., in honor of J. K. DEMPEY has aroused a vigorous protest from American Legion officials.

John C. Vivian, past commander of the Colorado Legion, wrote that to name the school in Dempey's honor "would be an insult to every World War veteran and every patriotic citizen in the United States." And he described J. D. as an "outstanding arch-slacker of the World War."

And yet we read in the same column almost that J. D. received a "vicious welcome at Monterey, Mexico, where he has arrived to give a boxing exhibition, and that—

HUNDREDS OF SENORITAS SHOWERED HIM WITH FLOWERS!

No doubt Dempey prefers that they say it with flowers instead of hard words like the Legion fellows do. Meanwhile he is apparently still gathering the kais from those who think it worth large sums to see him do his tricks.

Various estimates place his clean-up since his return from his honeymoon trip at from $40,000 to $100,000 for exhibition bouts.

Which being so, he probably will not worry overmuch at not having any high schools named for him. It's not a very paying advertisement.

Geer, what a crazy world it is!

If you aren't a hero, some one—lots of 'em—will make you one, and pay you for allowing yourself to be made one, but there's many a real hero who has a hard time scratching along and making both ends meet.

In these days of high prices for professional sport exponents it is interesting to read that a prominent professional has settled on BARRY JONES as "the greatest drawing card in the world today," and opines that it would be worth $100,000 a year for the American champion to turn pro.

And that Bobby mentioned to a friend that he had been offered $12,000 for a series of articles for one of the great magazines.

Jones declined the offer immediately. "They want it," said he, "because I'm a goffer, not because I'm a writer."

Good boy, Bobby. You're right, too. CHAMPION WRITERS AREN'T PAID NEARLY SO HIGHLY.

Saanich Petition Will Be Presented

Hon. T. G. Coventry to Place Statement Before Legislature Probably on Tuesday

Presentation to the Provincial Legislature by Hon. T. G. Coventry, M.P.P. for Saanich, of the petition of Saanich against the city's private bill validating the Esquimalt Waterworks expropriation, will likely take place Tuesday next.

Reeve Robert Macneil stated yesterday that there was little doubt in his mind that Saanich would receive much consideration in this matter of water supply. He intimated that the petition would stress the action of the city in increasing rates from six cents to ten cents per 1,000 gallons with only five days' notice, after enjoyment of a ten-year contract. "If the city would act in that manner when it had no real monopoly, how would the city administration act if the Legislature confirms them in a position of monopoly?" the Reeve asked.

The Reeve declared he was satisfied that prices would be raised from time to time whenever the city authorities thought conditions compelled payment by Saanich.

"The time is ripe for Saanich to object," said Reeve Macneil. "In five years' time the political complexion of the Legislature may favor the city more, and in the meantime the city will have consolidated its position in control of all the available water sources."

Opposition to arbitration for any five-year period was voiced by the Reeve, who asserted he would welcome that course if a fifteen or twenty-year contract were at stake.

Boards of Trade Could Give Aid To Newcomers

Suggestion Made That Organizations Take Active Part in Co-operating With Agent-General in London

Work of Office Is Lauded

(Special to The Colonist)
DUNCAN, Nov. 6.—During my stay in London I was a constant visitor to the office of the Agent-General and I formed the impression that this branch of the Government is functioning to good purpose," said Dr. D. E. Kerr, of this city.

"When people are making inquiry concerning conditions in British Columbia one of the most pertinent questions is that dealing with the educational facilities of the Province. There are a limited number of people with small means who also make specific inquiry regarding the Province. These men are generally physically fit and possessed with an agricultural training in one branch or another. This movement of people is on the increase and I have come home with the conviction that all the boards of trade of British Columbia should take an active part in the work of assisting in the settlement of these new comers. In this way they would not only improve conditions in British Columbia, where population and capital is so urgently required, but they would be providing a valuable aid to themselves and also to the Motherland.

"I would suggest that every active board of trade in British Columbia should have an advisory committee to deal with immigration, whose duty would be to co-operate with the Agent-General for British Columbia to the end that emigration from Great Britain should be encouraged to a greater degree than is at present possible; the committee to act as local advisors with whom the London office could correspond; to furnish reliable information as to their district; to welcome newcomers and make them feel that they are welcome and give them counsel and guidance when required until they become accustomed to their new surroundings.

Literature to Be Sent
"Further," said Dr. Kerr, "it is essential that the boards of trade keep the Agent-General's office well supplied with suitable literature, the details of which are reliable. Such committees would be of great help to British Columbia House, and where these committees already exist in the Province they have shown how valuable they are in developing their community.

The library at the Agent-General's office is well patronized by visitors from British Columbia and by the general public, who appear to appreciate the fact that they can secure the British Columbia newspapers. The Agent-General and his staff are always ready to assist visitors and their services are found very valuable.

Bank to Take Offices
"What formerly was the exhibition hall on the ground floor of the building and the upper portion which was, until recently occupied by the Canadian emigration department, is being converted into premises for the London office of the Union Bank of Canada, and I was advised by the Agent-General that this tenancy will produce a substantial benefit in the rent."

It appears that the Agent-General is putting economical administration into practice. Upon the completion of negotiations under way he advised me that the operation of the British Columbian agency in London will be reduced to a total cost to the taxpayers of between $5,000 and $7,000 per annum. Today this agency is costing the Province between $15,000 and $20,000 per annum and I firmly believe that this money is well spent.

B.C. Favorably Known
"I found British Columbia well and favorably known in the Old Country and looked upon by many as the most desirable portion of Canada for one to settle. From January 1 to September this year the agency received nearly 4,000 letters, the majority requests for information regarding conditions in the Province. The letters dispatched during the like period amounted to more than 3,000, and the Agent-General and the secretary have held nearly 1,300 interviews during the present year. I was interested in reading in the London press a statement to the effect that the vicinity of Lower Regent Street, where British Columbia House is situated, is looked upon as the new financial centre of London and that financial houses in the city are gradually moving to the West End.

"I am of the opinion," concluded Dr. Kerr, "that British Columbia House is a decided asset to the Province of British Columbia and every encouragement should be given by the people of the Province to enable the Agent-General and his staff to carry on their work to the best of their ability."

Zavaglio Is Freed by Jury

Charge of Arson Was Made From Fire at Hardy Bay Thirteen Months Ago

Mike Zavaglio, of Hardy Bay, was acquitted of an arson charge at today's session of the Nanaimo assize court.

The case arose out of a fire at the Bayview Hotel, Hardy Bay, on October 10, 1924. Evidence was given by Mr. and Mrs. Grace, who were managing the hotel at the time of the fire; Mr. Goodacre, an accountant; Mr. J. Kilby, of Hardy Bay, and Constable Hedley, of Alert Bay.

The jury deliberated thirty minutes, bringing in a verdict of "not guilty."

The accused was represented by Mr. G. Wamer, of Vancouver.

Qualicum District Health Association Holds Monthly Session

HILLIERS, Nov. 5.—The monthly meeting of the Qualicum and District Public Health Association was held at Mr. Lord's residence at Combs on November 2.

Miss Murray, B.N.P.H.A., reported 143 home visits, 22 nursing visits, 5 pre-natal, 9 post-natal, 35 child welfare, 70 pre-school, 132 instructional, 12 miscellaneous visits, 4 schools visited 22 times, 100 hours spent in school work, 150 children examined, 88 re-inspected, 29 new defects found, 21 old defects improved, 3 children excluded, 2 referred to a physician, 64 toothbrush drills, 31 minor treatments, 100 business calls.

The Association wishes to draw attention to the item "old defects found improved, 21." This shows that Miss Murray's work is bearing fruit.

The collections by the nurse for the month were $10.50. Total collections for month, $25.55; expenses for month, $28.35, including $47 which is the share of nurse's salary.

The Association desires to thank Mrs. Waidie, Hilliers, for her kindness in getting up a silver tea and for raising $11.30 for the funds of the Association.

It was decided to ask school trustees not already represented to elect one of their number to act for the Association on November 7.

Next meeting will be held at Mrs. Davies', Parkville, on December 7.

House Meets on Oct. Date; Six Resign

resignations of all have been accepted to take effect within a week.

"Until Parliament has met and the attitude of the Parliamentary representatives toward the question raised by the numerous resignations of the respective portfolios will not be filled, but will be assigned to other Ministers. The Hon. Minister-General, Hon. Charles Murphy, will be acting Secretary of State; the Minister of Finance, Hon. James Robb, will be acting Minister of Trade and Commerce; the Minister of the Interior, Hon. Charles Stewart, will be acting Minister of Immigration and Colonization; the Minister of Public Works, Hon. Dr. J. H. King, will be acting Minister of Labour.

"It was felt by the Prime Minister to be in the public interest to ask Mr. Graham to retain, for the time being, at least, his administration of the portfolio of Railways and Canals. Mr. Graham has so consented to do."

No Need to Wait for speaker
OTTAWA, Nov. 6.—There will be no need to wait for election of a Speaker to the new House of Commons before a by-election writ is issued. The point has been arising some controversy in view of the fact that the issue of a by-election writ is normally preceded by the issue of a Speaker's warrant. An official opinion today says that in the absence of a Speaker two duly elected members of the new Parliament can issue a warrant.

The death of J. E. Macdill, member-elect for Bagot, is not the first occasion, as was first supposed, of a member dying before his election had been officially returned. Peter Mc-Gibbon, member-elect for Argenteuil in the last elections, died twelve days after polling day and nineteen days before his return was officially gazetted. Dr. A. Lafontaine, member-elect for Jacques Cartier, also died shortly after election, but in his case the writ had been returned.

Premier Blocked
OTTAWA, Nov. 6.—Blocked in his efforts to win by-elections what he lost in the general contest, Premier King has been forced to retire his defeated ministers and allocate their departments to the ministers who were saved from the wreck.

Meena, Sindair, Marler, Foster, Gordon, Manning, Murdoch and Low are thrown overboard and only Hon. George P. Graham remains of the fallen and, according to the Prime Minister's statement, he remains "in the public interest for the time being at least," although it is definitely known he will not again sit in Parliament. Remaining in office with half a cabinet, the Prime Minister has had to give his remaining colleagues additional portfolios.

horrence to senators being active ministers, now has three departments, Postoffice, State and Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment, administered by senators.

Having embarked on a course contrary to the expressed desire of the electors, the Prime Minister finds himself in a new predicament every day and is compelled continually to resort to subterfuge and evasion.

He is governing the country with a minority group and half a cabinet. It does not indicate what he intends to do in regard to a constituency for himself and if he could not secure writs for by-elections for his ministers it is difficult to understand how he is entitled to secure one for himself.

It has been suggested he contest Bagot and enter Parliament via Quebec. In event of his adopting this course the Conservatives will certainly contest the constituency.

Session Delay Likely

Although there is a promise of the early assembling of Parliament, there is an excuse provided for indefinite delay.

Parliament is summoned to meet on December 10, but the delay in the return of the writs from one or more constituencies will provide an excuse for postponing the calling of Parliament.

Such delay in return of the writs can easily be secured and it is quite probable that January will see a defeated leader of a minority party with half a cabinet still in office.

One reason for the temporary retention of power by Premier King is to prevent the exposure of scandalous election pledges. Liberal workers are arriving here and demanding disloyalty licenses, railway charters, land purchases, appointments and, in fact, every kind of concession that a desperate party will make to avert defeat. Threats are being made by some, if the Government "does not come through" before they relinquish office, they will expose many unsavory transactions and promises.

Orders-in-Council Withheld
It is impossible to secure copies of orders-in-council. When the election was announced the officials of the Privy Council were instructed to give out no copies of orders-in-council. The one promulgating the notorious Rouyn railway deal is still withheld.

The scores of other orders-in-council of public interest are withheld. The acts of the Government are as carefully concealed as those of the council of ten of Venice in mediæval days.

Most astounding election irregularities are being revealed every day. In Laurier-Outremont a check of one-third the lists shows 830 Conservative names that were on the revising officer's list had been omitted from the printed list. It is estimated in this constituency alone nearly 2,500 Conservative names were removed illegally from the lists.

Recent Demanded

In St. Ann's division, Montreal, there were 651 spoilt ballots, of which nearly 600 were Conservative. Thomas O'Connell, Conservative candidate, was defeated by 420 and is applying for a recount. In this division hundreds of names of Conservative voters were removed from the revised list after it had been certified to by the revising officer.

Conservative candidates in Quebec claim it is useless to fight elections in that province as long as the administration of justice and the control of the election machinery is in the hands of the Liberal machine.

Telegraphing votes is the common practice and in the recent contest "gangsters" were brought from Newark to Montreal to perfect the Liberal machine in Tammany methods.

Loan Freedom Cheers London

Withdrawal of Restrictions Shifts

Relative Stocks

LONDON, Nov. 6.—Naturally the withdrawal of the restrictions hitherto placed on the emission of foreign loans in the London market provided the chief topic of conversation in financial circles this week. The first result was a tendency to shift interest from the purely invest-lative character. Nevertheless, the home gilt-edged securities have held their own well throughout the week and there seems every reason to believe that those concerned with the notation of new issues will observe the caution urged upon them by Winston Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer, when the embargo against foreign loans issued in the British market was lifted a few days ago.

British railroads have been somewhat cheered this week with publication of traffic returns showing substantial increases in several directions, although it may be that the final rush to the Wembley Exhibition has put a finer point on the statistics.

The noted cotton firm of Costes has reported profits of more than $3,500,000 for the year after making provision for depreciation and taxation. This amount is the third largest ever earned by this company.

PORT HURON MAIL, H.C., Nov. 6.—Approximately $200 in cash and $50 in cheques were stolen from the local postoffice late yesterday by an unidentified man who entered the office while J. H. Smith, postmaster and general storekeeper, had his back turned, and snatched the cash box. Provincial police organized a search party but no trace of the thief could be found. It is assumed he made his getaway on one of two freight trains

Succeeds Mr. Guinness

LONDON, Nov. 5.—Ronald V. Meill, Under Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, today was appointed Financial Secretary of the Treasury, succeeding Walter Edward Guinness, who has been named Minister of Agriculture.
